Dissociative Identity Disorder is a psychological condition characterized by the presence of two or more distinct personality states within a single individual. These personalities, often called "alters," may have their own names, ages, histories, and ways of perceiving the world.

What Causes DID?

The development of DID is typically linked to severe trauma during early childhood, such as:

- Chronic physical, emotional, or sexual abuse
- Neglect or abandonment
- Extreme stress or life-threatening events

The disorder is viewed as a coping mechanism, allowing the person to dissociate or detach from painful memories or experiences.

Signs and Symptoms of DID

Individuals living with multiple personalities may exhibit:

- Memory gaps for personal events
- Sudden shifts in behavior or attitude
- Distinct personalities with unique traits
- Feelings of detachment from oneself

- Hearing voices or conversations between alters
